

History of Pandemics

Throughout history, as humans spread across the world, infectious diseases have been a constant companion. Even in this modern era, outbreaks are nearly constant.

WHO officially declared COVID-19 a pandemic on March 11, 2020. This data was collected at 5PM on March 30, 2020 from Johns Hopkins University.*

